In A World of Selfishness and Greed, Hate and Intolerance, The Milk of Human Kindness Continues To Flow - As This Story Proves!

In a world aflame where the powers of darkness and evil triumphantly ride a wave of blood that threatens to engulf all mankind, where selfishness and greed hate and intolerance, are fanned to red hot flame in the minds and hearts of millions, it is comforting and inspiring to encounter even the tiniest ember of human kindness and unselfish love.

With our eyes and ears hourly bombarded with vivid accounts of destruction and death, conveyed by press, radio and newsreel, we become as plants struck by the wintery frosts and the milk of human kindness ceases to flow and lies dormant while hearts, calloused by fear and uncertainty, harden with our arteries.

But "GOOD" is not dead in the world and the fires of human kindness, unselfishness and brotherly love still burn in the hearts of the many in spite of all that the forces of evil can do to extinguish them.

In the most remote and unexpected places we find such embers burning brightly and once fanned into flame they too can sweep the land to smother the fires of destruction and bring warmth and light back into a weary and troubled world.

While warped and little minds, temporarily in power, devote their every energy to the problem of how best to "do something TO other fellow beings," there are others, unheard of and unknown, who direct their efforts toward a finer and nobler goal and seek constantly for opportunities to "do something FOR a fellow being."

Living humbly and quietly in the little community of Oldsmar, not far from Tampa, a sweet and charming elderly woman is finding peace and happiness and reward more precious than sparkling jewels or gold through the practice of what she terms her "hobby" DOING FOR OTHERS.

It all began many years ago when a childless and lonesome woman turned to her for aid and comfort. Her own mother having passed away in the bloom of youth, Mrs. Alma Allen decided then and there that she would "Adopt a Mother" not legally or openly, but secretly in her heart. She began to think of all the little things she might do to bring happiness and contentment into the life of this lonely, neglected and unfortunate soul to make the last mile of her life's journey smoother and brighter.

So thrilling was the experience and so rich the reward in the reflected happiness her act brought her that she looked about for other "Mothers" to adopt. They were not hard to find. Then her secret was discovered. Friends following in her footsteps, adopted other "Mothers". Letters began to come from far and near asking about her "Adopt a Mother" idea. A national magazine told the story; newspapers editorialized the movement until today thousands of kindly folks throughout the country are following the example of Mrs. Alma Allen of Oldsmar, Florida, and have adopted a "Mother" or "Mothers" of their own.

Consciously or unconsciously, Mrs. Allen had put in operation a "law of life". From the inexhaustable storehouse of the "God within her" she had drawn on the reserves of love and affection, of kindliness and thoughtfulness, and unselfishly scattered these treasures in the world about her. And the LAW, as immutable as time itself, returned to her in measure an hundredfold the joy and happiness her generous heart had GIVEN to others.

In his inspiring novel "The Magnificent Obsession", Lloyd Douglas gave us a beautiful example of the LAW and its operation as it was applied by Dr. Hudson. Although his story was fiction, in relation to life it is TRUTH.

GOOD works on a plane of expansion and is the most potent and powerful force in the world today. As we give of it from within us, we expand our own personality and renewed power for good flows back to us, while that we have released into the world expands to brighten and comfort the lives of others.

The world needs more Alma Allens. Her plan of "Adopting a Mother" may seem trival in itself, but it is GOOD, and its expansion possesses possibilities for the spreading of happiness beyond our comprehension. You and I, if we will but look about us, could find avenues for similar unselfish service, and if the desire in our heart is as sincere as it was in hers, we, too, can kindle a flame that will sweep the world.

If I were a one-man committee to pass out orchids for the most beautiful window decoration in the Glades this season, I'd have to hand a whole armful of the dainty flowers to Mrs. Olaf Boe at Boe's Automotive Service station. The windows this week are truly handsome. A great deal of work and planning went into the attractive arrangements and many compliments have been paid Mrs. Boe for her handiwork. Take a look the next time you pass by—I believe you'll agree with me.

Maybe it would be a good idea for this newspaper to offer some kind of a prize next year for the most attractive window—such a scheme might bring out some hidden talent in this window dressing business.

I read a litle placard yesterday. It said: "There are so many absolute necessities we don't need." There's something to think about.

Mrs. O. R. Bleech in Pahokee is the proud possessor of a congressional medal of honor which was given to her father, A. D. Harman, for bravery in action during the war between the states. The handsome medal was presented in 1865 and is kept in its original box. If you enjoy looking at interesting medals you might ask Mrs. Bleech to show it to you—the next time you pass by her husband's office in Pahokee.

For fear I might forget it next week—I want to take this opportunity to extend greetings of the season to my friends. My wish for you is that you get your wish.

To every business house in the Glades, which has in some way made this year's business profitable in this office, I want to say most sincerely, "Thank You." Some of these days I hope to be in position to return some of the splendid favors extended to me since I arrived in the Lake Okeechobee Region to make my home.

I can honestly and sincerely say there never lived a finer group of people on earth than those with whom I come in daily contact in a business and social way.

To my subscribers, my advertisers and commercial printing customers, I am deeply grateful for another year's splendid co-operation. And should I search the dictionary for some flowery word to express my wishes at this season of the year, I know I'd never find anything more appropriate than "Merry Christmas."

Drivers Of One-Eyed Cars Take Heed!

Those motorists in the Lake Region who continue to drive automobiles with one light and no tail-light, had better do something about it in the immediate future. State Patrolman Varner is located in this section and he has orders from the head office to straighten out the traffic situation here. During the past couple of months hundreds of cars have been plying the roads of the Lake Region with only one light, some with no tail-light, and this situation must be remedied, the patrolman said. Incidentally, if you don't have a driver's license it would not be a good idea to run afoul the law.

Why, Mr. Crabtree . . . . We're Surprised!

(An Open Letter to Coach Clyde Crabtree from Paul Rardin)

Mr. Clyde Crabtree, Coach,
Palm Beach High School,
West Palm Beach, Fla.
Dear Coach Crabtree:

In Tuesday's Palm Beach Post I notice you say you have no date with Pahokee for a foot ball game in 1941. What's wrong with the usual end-season date offered by Pahokee school officials?

I understand you want to play the 1941 Wildcats-Blue Devil game in October instead of the final game of the season, as has been the custom for seven years. Of course, I know you must have a good reason for it, but, why? Palm Beach county foot ball fans have come to look forward to this game as the ONE BIG game in the county each year.

It couldn't be that you want to schedule some other team with more drawing power—a look at your gate receipts will prove during the years, before you came to West Palm Beach, that Pahokee was the big drawing card of the season. And the game next year is to be played in West Palm Beach.

With your hundreds of boys in high school I realize full well that you will have opportunity to perfect a going combination long before the end of the season. However, it is quite different in a small school like Pahokee with only a handful of boys to choose from. I am sure that you'll change your mind about this early season game business when you consider the fact that the Pahokee-Palm Beach game has become an outstanding grid affair—both here in the Glades and on the East Coast. I know that you'd rather see a game between the two teams when both are at peak form than in early season when they're just getting underway.

Let's thresh out all these little differences and take advantage of the customary date at the end of the season when both groups of boys are ready and willing to stage an excellent display of gridiron entertainment. For, after all, as that radio commentator said: "It doesn't matter whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game."

Very sincerely yours,
Paul Rardin, Publisher The Everglades News.

Precooling Plant Near Completion

The City Ice and Fuel company, at Belle Glade, is about ready to install the machinery for its new packing house and precooling plant. This plant is the largest and most modern in the state. The American Fruit Growers, will handle the Blue Goose brand of vegetables from this plant, and the Lord Packing houses. "Pop" Lord will be the general manager over these two plants. The Lord plant went into operation on Tuesday afternoon packing potatoes and next week will be handling tomatoes.

The Pioneer Growers, this week, also began handling the tomato crop from the fields of affiliated growers, as well as potatoes. Both crops promise big quality yields.

All the frame work of the new addition to the Keese packing house is now in place, and the interior work is being rushed, and new gradeline machinery installed. The new addition will double the present size of the Keesee plant.

The foundation work for the new cold storage plant of the City Ice and Fuel company, is now completed and the frame structure work started.

D. P. Smith Dies Result Of Injuries

Funeral services for the late Daniel P. Smith, of Canal Point, were held at the Everglades Funeral home last Friday, with burial at Port Mayaca cemetery. Express Delivery Is Inaugurated

William Reddick, agent for the Florida East Coast Railway and the Railway Express Agency, announces a new express delivery service to be placed in operation within the coming week. Mr. Reddick has been working for the new service for the past year, and only this week, received word that the Express company had passed favorably upon the project.

The Express company will inaugurate a delivery and pick-up service for the territory embracing Azucar, Canal Point, Pahokee and Pelican lake, under the management of Mr Reddick. This will mean that express coming into the local depot will be delivered to the consignees free of cost, the day following its receipt. Outgoing express will be picked up and delivered on call for service.

Mr. Reddick hopes that the Florida East Coast will soon afford a similar service as the officials now have it under consideration.

Library Board Hears WPA Report

Mr. Gay stated that no yearly membership dues could be collected by the Library, but that an independent organization could be formed, which might make donations for the operating expenses of the library, such as rent and light and purchase of new books. Such an organization is planned for after the first of the coming year.

Glades Need Rain For Crops; Prices Steady Thru Week

122 Cars Of Vegetables Roll Over Florida East Coast R. R.

Growing crops in the Glades are in need of rain, as the muckland is becoming dusty, even though some moisture is secured through the irrigation systems.

Prices on beans have held steady during the past week, showing a slight increase upward, but none over the $1.60 mark for black Valentines. Tendergreens brought around the $1.50, while Bountifuls ran around 75 to 85 cents.

With some rains the growing crops promise to yield an abundant harvest of beans.

Some early types of celery are about ready for cutting, but the volume will not be large until after the holidays.

A total of 122 cars of vegetables rolled over the Florida East Coast lines the past week, as follows: South Bay, 17 beans; Belle Glade, 64 beans; 2 peas and 2 mixed; Canal Point, 15 beans, one mixed, one peas. Potato and tomato offerings at Belle Glade were all snapped up by the truckers. Most of the beans for the week came from the west section of the Glades.

R. Y. Creech, of Belle Glade, is reported as farming on his protected Ritta Island lands, 180 acres of beans, 60 of peppers, 100 of egg plant, 100 of celery and 80 acres of potatoes at Bean City.

Palm Beach Coach Wants Pahokee Tilt In Middle Of Season

Crabtree Offers Blue Devils October 31 Date Next Year

Coach Crabtree, of the West Palm Beach High school, in an interview with the Post-Times scribe, stated that while he had made schedule dates with a number of the Big Ten conference teams for 1941, he had been unable to make a date with Pahokee, and that there was a possibility there might be no game between these schools next season.

Crabtree states that he has offered October 31 to the Pahokee authorities, which the latter does not favor, desiring the same closing season game as in the past. Crabtree also states that he has offered to play two games, one in the opening and the other the latter portion of the season, which is also unaccepted to date.

Belle Glade Lodge Holds Second Meet, To Build New Home

Lot Is Donated For Temple By Belle Glade Man And Wife

At the second communication of Belle Glade Lodge of Masons, held Tuesday night, at its temporary hall at the Joe Cherry home on the Chosen road, evidence was recorded that the new lodge is getting off with a good start for expansion, as five demits and several applications were presented for lodge consideration.

The third floor attic of the former Stein home, which had been originally planned for a recreation room, makes a very acceptable place for meeting.

The seating of the room is with seats from the Everglades theatre, provided thru courtesy of Gold and Dobrow. The lodge furniture is of home manufacture from the hands of members. The Holy Bible is the gift of the A. J. Holman Publishing Company, and a very fine one, as it an emblematical Masonic volume. It is much appreciated. Members of the order presented other lodge equipment.

One of the heartening episodes of the meeting, was when one of the members, arose and stated that he and his wife, were donating and deeding one of the two lots on Main street in Belle Glade, to the lodge, which will be used for the proposed new temple. Worshipful Master Frank Kelly will head a committee which will get the new temple and loan details in shape to present to the lodge and Grand lodge for approval. Contract for the new business block and temple quarters, is expected to be let around the first of March.

The lodge was signally honored by having among its guest list, three thirty-third degree members from Lake Worth Consistory, namely, Hal Young, Chester Wright and Dr. John R. Wells, as a number of Past Worshipful Masters.

The real treat of the evening was when a group of Lake Worth Consistory members, presented in a most impressive manner the masonic play entitled "The Rose of the Altar". The story and the masterly presentation of the theme touched the heart of every man in the capacity crowded house.

Announcement was made that the School of Instruction scheduled for Lake Worth, next week, had been postponed to dates in January, as Grand Lodge officers found it impossible to keep the original date.

A SACRED PROMISE

Such a farwell ceremony as marked the departure of this county's first 10 selective service trainees Monday was entirely fitting. The initial group called out for training is entitled to a demonstration of the community's appreciation and good will for them as well for those who will go later. That they take with them the best wishes of the people of Palm Beach County was made perfectly clear.

In voicing the feelings of the community Judge Chillingworth touched on a matter that is even more important to the trainees than farewell celebrations. The county can do nothing for them now. For the next year, at the shortest, they will be cared for by Uncle Sam. It is when the Army relinquishes its claim to their services that they will need consideration from the home folks.

These young men are giving a year out of their lives to the common cause of national defense. To many of them this means a financial sacrifice, whatever it may do for them in a physical way. The sacrifice is being made not for themselves but for their country, and whether they go as volunteers or conscripts the result is the same.

So Judge Chillingworth's assurance [illegible] will not return home as [illegible] men [illegible] and the public should make certain it is carried out. When these men come back [illegible] a year [illegible] few, but every one of them should [illegible] a chance to take up civilian life [illegible] left off it not in a better position.

As a matter of fact the year of Army training should equip them [illegible] mentally and physically to be of even greater service to the community than they were before.

Judge Chillingworth's promise must not be forgotten.—Palm Beach Post.

South Bay Firm To Pack Cabbage

The South Bay Growers and Distributors of which N. N. Starling is manager, has found its necessary to expand its new packing house which opened in October and will make a new addition 110 X 90 feet, to give additional room for two additional grade lines which makes the total six.

Another addition 60 X 100 feet will be built for a pre-cooling plant, for cabbage exclusively and will be the only such plant in the Glades. The company will feature a commercial pack of fine cabbage and will do away with the hamper method of shipping. Pre-cooling of cabbage will get it to the market in a better and fresher condition, without the leaf wilt customary under the ice covered shipping method now in general use.

Starling states that there is no cabbage so tender and better for eating purposes than that which is produced in the Everglades section around South Bay. The company has contracted for 2,000 acres of cabbage and will bring in expert Texas crews to do the packing.

The first part of the program for the evening was the singing of Christmas carols led by Miss Anita Mitchell accompanied by Mrs. Hudson. Watchman "Borrows" Car & Wrecks It

Leo Simmons, aged 21, who for the past month has been a night watchman at the Brandon Brokerage company packing house, got mixed up in a bad automobile accident just west of the Canal Point bridge, around 11 o'clock Tuesday night.

The story goes that Simmons got a bit lonesome on his duties, went into the yard, and found a car with the keys in it, jumped into it and made visitation to Canal Point business places. On his way back he crossed the bridge at a high rate of speed, and was not able to make the curve at the Coburn road. He struck and knocked down some posts at the Peavey place, threw the car across the roadway west of the barbecue stand and landed up against a tree, badly damaging the appropriated car.

After the crash, Simmons was seen hot-footing it toward the packing house center, and to date has not been located, and it is believed that he is pacing it back to his native home in Arkansas.

Imps Lose To Pahokee Squad

There was lots of fun and foot ball exhibited in the contest between the Canal Point Imps and the Junior Blue Devils at Lair field, Monday afternoon. It was no pink tea affair, either, for there was plenty of robust physical power inserted, the players were thrown and tumbled over the field in true circus acrobatic manner.

Pahokee proved too strong for the Canal Point boys, and won the game by a score of 19 to 6. Bill Hill, who promises to become a star player, set the touchdown ball rolling, when he got out of a melee and sprinted 20 yards for a score. Canal Point scored its lone touchdown on a 30 yard pass by Altman to "Tony" who ran it across the line for a touchdown on a pretty 30 yard run.

Bachelor got off a pretty 30 yard pass to Wilkerson, who ran 30 yards for Pahokee's second touchdown. Conversion point was good. A few minutes later Bridges caught a 50 yard pass, which he carried for a touchdown.

Peacock To Go To The University

Calvin Peacock, who was the guest of Coach Lieb, at Gainesville, Saturday, to witness the Florida-Texas game, got his first view of a Texas team in play, and if he had not witnessed it, he would not have thought it possible to display so much versatility as those Long horn players exhibited. He says the Texas boys had the Floridians in a daze most of the time, wondering who was carrying the ball or where it could be located.

Calvin brings back the good news that Coach Lieb has arranged for his attendance at the university for the coming year, and that he will report for school and foot ball service at the University opening in September.

Conference Names All Star Players
